

An abstract ink splash on a white background. The splash is composed of various shades of brown, tan, and purple, with a blue gradient at the bottom. The ink is spread out and has a textured, organic appearance. The text "demodays 2012" is centered over the splash.

demodays 2012

Welcome to the Demodays 2012

Switzerland's most anticipated demo event is back! After last year's success in this location we just had to come back to the Schützi again. The friendly people that work in and for the location are just too helpful: not the way it was in our old location in Winterthur. We hope you had a good trip to the party place and want to make your stay comfortable: if there's something not running the right way, if you have questions, suggestions or complaints, just dig up one of the organizers and tell him. We promise to try our best to fix the situation right away. We have three well stuffed days for you and if the weather is fine, there's a lot of space for outdoor action too (you've already seen the barbecue place, haven't you?). Our bistro «Buenzli» will be at your service all day and night (that's the place to get your salad if you're on pounds-off.me diet).

Enough of the babbling, it's time to grab a first (or another) beer and connect your equipment - or even better - say hello to everybody. On behalf of the whole Demodays team, I want to wish you a great stay at our party, a lot of fun - and good releases for all of us! It's awesome you are here - a demo party is nothing without the visitors. Thanks for showing up!

The Demodays Network

The Partymeister intranet page is at <http://demodays.bnz>, where you upload your entries, vote, chat, get up to date information. We will also run an IRC and an FTP server for releases to be retrieved after the competitions. Details will be denoted on the bigscreen. Please do not abuse our Internet connection, other visitors might need it as well.

For your convenience, demodays offers a high speed WiFi Network. There are several Access points named BNZ01 - BNZ08. Just connect to the one next to you. However there is also a cable based network with switches on some tables, that connects you fast and easily to the Network. If you need a cable, ask at the Infodesk. The network setup is done via DHCP, no need to configure anything further. If for some reason, you can not use DHCP, contact our Network Team to get a static IP address.

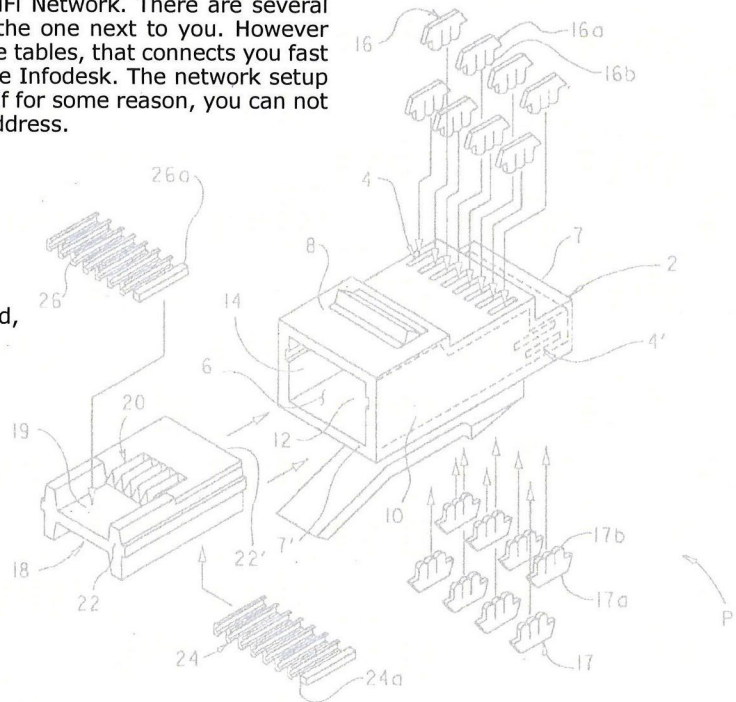

Wireless Settings:

SSID: BNZ01 - BNZ08

Password: demodays

Security: WPA2-PSK [AES]

If your computer asks you for a PIN instead of a Password, contact the Infodesk for it!
